5 pitfalls of renovating in a Miami condo

Pitfall	What it means for you
Condo board approval	Plans, insurance and licenses reviewed before work starts — allow 2–6 weeks. We prepare the full package.
COI requirements	Your building demands a Certificate of Insurance from every contractor. No COI — no elevator access.
Elevator & loading rules	Materials move only through booked service elevators in set hours. Bad logistics = weeks lost.
Noise hours	Demolition often limited to 9am–5pm weekdays. Schedules must be built around it.
Permits (Miami-Dade)	Electrical, plumbing and structural work needs permits. Unpermitted work can block your future sale.
M5 handles the board, COI, permits and logistics as part of every project — it's our process, not your problem.

Pre-renovation checklist

- ☐ Define your budget range — plus a 10–15% buffer

☐ Collect 10–15 reference photos of spaces you love

☐ Check your building's renovation rules early

☐ Ask every contractor for license & insurance

☐ Demand an itemized quote — not one number
- ☐ Agree milestone payments — never big upfront

☐ Put change-order rules in the contract

☐ Ask for weekly photo updates

☐ Confirm who manages permits & the board

☐ Get the warranty in writing

Red flags vs green flags

🚩 Walk away if...	✅ Good sign if...
One-line quote, price "depends"	Itemized estimate before contract
Big cash deposit upfront	Milestone payments tied to progress
"We don't need permits"	Permits & COI handled for you
No portfolio, no faces	Named team, real projects, warranty in writing
